Work differently

Welcome to the very first edition of the monthly Newsletter for Rocket Labs, the coworking space in Nørrebro, Copenhagen. As many of you know, three months ago Rocket Labs re-opened its doors under new ownership.

We are early in our journey, but we have big ambitions. We want to build an eclectic professional community which reflects the diversity of the business and entrepreneurial communities within Copenhagen and Denmark. We want to create a space designed alongside our members that provides a place to work – in private and in open – to network, to entertain, to socialise, to learn and to relax.

Our members have a stake in the direction our community takes and we welcome your contribution to shaping our future. Above all, we want to create a space which reflects the best of Denmark – in style, values and business. For our part, we look to offer our expertise – in real estate and in technology – and develop perks and benefits to help small businesses grow and expand their professional networks.

Over the coming weeks, we will announce a series of low-cost technology, finance and administration solutions to take the back office burdens of running a small business off your hands and allow you to concentrate on what you do best.

On a personal note, it is a great privilege to take on the role of Manager at Rocket Labs. It has been a pleasure getting to know everyone here, and in the wider business communities of Copenhagen, and I look forward to that continuing. I am always open to listen to feedback and have already gained some valuable insights which I intend to act upon. I will be working tirelessly to build this community and improve the quality of members' working lives. I also hope we will have more than a little fun along the way.

Let us know what socials you would like us to organise over October – movie nights, Friday Bars, a Halloween pub crawl, or a workshop or talk. Also, if any member would like to arrange their own public or private event at Rocket Labs, come and talk to us and we will help make it happen. Finally, we want to encourage all members and non-members to help us grow. Please share this Newsletter with your colleagues and friends. Have a great October.

What's up in October

- Mobile Pay is on the way which will pave the way for a small shop. We are thinking of stocking up on soft drinks, juices and snacks. If you have any burning requests or ideas, let us know.
- Extending the complimentary offering. From October, all milk will be provided and made visible in the Rocket Labs fridge. Sharing is caring.
- Administration & Technology packages will be offered to provide low-cost support across payroll, accounting & finance, cloud storage, IT support, website and app design, and more.
- Offer for Rocket Labs members: receive a 50% discount on first month's membership of Nor Health House. See the following page for more details.
- Members join us on Slack – rocket-labs-group.slack.com – and non-members follow us @ Rocket Labs Copenhagen on Facebook

Who we are

We are a coworking community in Nørrebro that you can shape. We believe that the next generation of corporate work culture is beyond closed walls.

We provide entrepreneurs and small companies with the infrastructure, technology, community and work environment to work faster and smarter. And to have fun along the way. We are building a place to both work and play, where members can network, socialise and focus on their well-being.

If you agree with us and want to work differently come check us out @ 30 Hejrevej, 2400 Nørrebro.

Introducing NOR: nordic health house

For those who crave a little pampering, body care or well-being, look no further than Rocket Labs' new partner, NOR, the health house which bridges mainstream and alternative health care. Situated above us here at Hejrevej 30, Nørrebro, our friends at NOR offer a range of physical and mental health services in a spectacular environment.

NOR offers yoga, exercise, dance, body treatments, acupuncture, coaching, osteopathy, health check, psychologists, psychotherapy and business networks, and serves fantastic coffee and a light bite of food.

Rocket Labs members are entitled to a 50% discount on the first month of new memberships. Contact a member of the Rocket Labs team for more details.
